

Repositioning Alo for Pets for Gen Z and Millennial Pet Owners

A Consumer Behavior Analysis

Kimberly Cerda-Cuevas

Lauren Chan

Kyle Tre Reynaldo

Jonathan Valera

Vianey Villegas

IBM 4112 – Consumer Behavior

Introduction

Alo Pets-By Alo Yoga

Concept

- Premium pet apparel & accessories
- Hoodies, harnesses, leashes, matching outfits
- Reflects Alo's quality, comfort, aesthetic

Market opportunity

- Pets viewed as family members
- Rising demand for aesthetic pet products
- Growth driven by lifestyle and identity based consumption

Literature Review

- DINK households → more disposable income
- Spending shifting from children → pets (rising ownership & costs)
- Purchases driven by identity, lifestyle, aesthetics
- High-involvement buyers
- Pet ownership tied to lifestyle & emotional connection

Market Analysis

ALO YOGA

AIR-LAND-OCEAN

Target

- Gen Z
- Millennials
- Fitness & Wellness-oriented individuals
- Trendy, lifestyle focused consumers

Marketing

- Influencer and buzz driven
- Strong social media presence
- Aspirational premium branding

Model

- Direct to consumer Focus
- E commerce
- Retail stores
- Controlled pricing
- Controlled consumer experience

ALO YOGA

AIR-LAND-OCEAN

Industry Overview

- 152B U.S Market (2024)
- Rising pet ownership
- Growth in premium spending
- Constant creation of trendy pet owner relationships

Competition

- Premium brands
 - Canada Pooch
 - Wagwear
- Mass Brands
 - Petco
 - Petsmart

Market Opportunity

- Positioning
 - Wellness
 - Fashion
 - Lifestyle
- Pre established image
- Trusted brand

Consumer Analysis

+

Target Segment Justification

- Target: Gen Z & Millennials (Age: 18 – 35)
- Value wellness, lifestyle, and self-image
- Influenced by social media & trends
- New target: pet owners who view pets as family
- Emotional motivation drives pet spending
- Seek balance of quality, style, and price

Data Analysis

+

Conclusion

Perceptual Map:

-Helps consumers view different pet brands based on the price and style

Consumers are focused on:

- Price
- Trendy looks

Market Gap:

- Products that are trendy & reasonably priced

Perceptual Map: Pet Brands

Based on Price (Affordability) and Style (Trendy Looks)

Preference map:

- High demand for quality & affordability
- Strong emotional bond with pets
- 62% responders spend under $100 a month
- Consumers want meaningful & stylish products

Conjoint Analysis:

- Style = major drive (match with their pets)
- Quality = comfortable & safe
- Perfect product: trendy & comfortable & affordable

Conclusion:

Summary findings:

- Consumers value emotional connection + lifestyle
- Price continues to be a major factor (consumers spend under $100 a month on their pets)
- Ideal product mix: trendy, affordable, and quality

Strategic Recommendations:

- Value based: pricing: affordable, but stylish
- Social media + influencers best strategy to reach millennials and Gen Z
- Emotional branding + self concept positioning

Repositioning Alo for Pets for Gen Z and Millennial Pet Owners

A Consumer Behavior Analysis

Kimberly Cerda-Cueva

Lauren Chan

Kyle Tre Reynaldo

Jonathan Valera

Vianey Villegas

IBM 4112 – Consumer Behavior

